Message from the Mayor, Stuart Bikson

Residents:

These are challenging and uncertain times, but I know that the organizations and leaders in our community are working tirelessly to help keep us safe and secure. Rochester's first responders remain active and ready for all emergencies and they deserve a tremendous amount of credit. I personally want to extend my thanks on behalf of the community to all the health care workers and first responders on the frontlines of this pandemic.

Please continue to follow Federal, State, and County guidelines for staying home and social distancing, especially as the weather improves and more people recreate in our parks and trails.

The City remains committed to supporting our business community through this crisis. The City is collaborating with many area organizations to help bridge the gap virtually for our local merchants and come up with novel solutions that will help them once businesses are able to open.

The City continues to make wellness calls to our senior residents, but if you are a senior and need assistance give us a call and we'll do our best to pair you with someone who can help, call 248-733-3700 for assistance.

I believe in Rochester and in our residents. We are strong and resilient, and we will survive this crisis. Let's all work together and help one another. Together we shall see this through and find better days ahead.

Stuart Bikson, Mayor
